Respected N.S.W. People
Praise
CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

When a medicine gives such universal satisfaction that respected citizens write praising the good work it has done, it should convince the most sceptical that it can be relied upon for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, influenza and bronchitis.

N. S. W. TESTIMONY.

Mr. Wm. ROBINSON, Church Street, Parramatta.

Mr. Wm. Robinson.

"For many years I suffered from pains and tightness in the chest which eventually turned into bronchitis. One day I saw Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and decided to try it; it gave me great relief and cured me so quickly that my wife also used it and speaks highly of it. There is no question Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a wonderful medicine and it is the only one that I can get to relieve me. I have been using and recommending it now for twelve years, and have never known it to fail." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is so compounded that it will cure the powerful convulsive cough of a big man and yet is not too powerful for the youngest and most delicate child. A remedy of this kind can always be depended upon in the home. When you have a cough or cold give it a trial and see for yourself what an excellent medicine it is.

Mrs. S. CARMICHAEL, 2 Lyons Rd., Camperdown.

"Although my little daughter Beatrice is now the picture of health at two years of age I nearly lost her with bronchitis, but Mrs. Carr, a trained nurse of Camperdown, told me to get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I felt doubtful, but decided to take advantage of her experience and I am grateful to Mrs. Carr, for I put it down to her timely advice and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that my little girl is now the healthy child she is. I always have great pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to others." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially adapted for severe cases of bronchitis. It loosens the phlegm in the throat and makes expectoration easy. When given according to directions it always effects a cure. Every mother should know that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is absolutely safe.

Mrs. A. HOGAN, Condor Street, Burwood.

"It gives me the greatest pleasure to write you on the wonderful properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My boy had bronchitis from an infant and no medicine I tried gave him permanent relief. I was told by a friend to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and acting on her advice I got a bottle on my way home. After the first two doses my boy had improved wonderfully and before the bottle was finished he was quite well. I am sending you this letter to let you know of the great benefit I and my family have derived from Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In the home where there are small children a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy should always be kept handy.

Mr. R. A. YOUNG, Cudal, N.S.W.

"One night, a few months back, my wife and I were startled by hearing our little girl cough a real croaky cough. She had a cold which we were treating in our own way, but this sound so alarmed us that I at once got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and gave her some. In the morning there was no sign of cough and her cold rapidly left her. Now we never let a cold go so far, and keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on hand as a safeguard." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the most successful medicine known for cough. There is no danger in giving it freely as it contains no harmful drugs. In fact each bottle bears the Government analysis showing that it has been officially declared free from all narcotics.

MRS. J. GLOVER, Queen's Road, Five Dock.

"Having used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for children of all ages, I think it only right to recommend it to every mother. My little boy Gregory is particularly susceptible to colds and as soon as I notice the first symptoms I always give him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives immediate relief and quickly cures him and I think there is nothing equal to it for colds of any description." Anyone who has had experience in the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will tell you that it will cure colds at any stage, even after the cold has settled in the system. They will also tell you that it will cure a kind of cold. Be prepared for colds by having a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy handy.

MRS. L. LUCAS, Excelsior St., Concord.

"When my little son Grafton was eighteen months old he had pneumonia, which left him with a very nasty cough. I could get nothing that would give him any relief until I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which effected a permanent cure. I always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house for the other children and never fail to recommend it to my friends." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy penetrates the tissues and dries up every trace of irritation that causes you to cough. It also contains soothing and healing ingredients which lessen the danger of you having another cough this season. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures coughs and colds and cures them quickly. It is a good medicine and merits all the praise it has received.

MRS. S. T. BOOTH, Blacktown, N.S.W.

"My wife and I are firm believers in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and whenever one of the children develops the slightest sign of cough we find this medicine infallible. My little girl Florence had a very severe cold but after two or three doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy all signs of it disappeared. The children are so fond of it that we have to keep it out of their reach." The great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is explained by the fact that it is absolutely safe and at the same time pleasant and agreeable to the taste that children like it. This is a most important matter when medicine is to be given to children.

Mrs. S. T. Booth.

RELIGIOUS LITERATURE.

THE NEW PHILOSOPHY.

BUCKEN AND BERGSON.

The names of Professors Eucken and Bergson loom large on the philosophical horizon, and it is probable that for the next few years at least these two men, one from Germany and the other from France, will dominate philosophical thought. Already these names appear on the front page of many English and American magazines, and the educated public is growing familiar with the names, as are those of their doctrine. It would be too much to expect that same educated public to read some 20 volumes by Eucken and about half a dozen by Bergson. The desire is rather to be able to locate these volumes without much trouble, and that desire is being met by a library of exposition gathering them together. Even the student of philosophy cannot despise such help. Professor Boyce Gibson, whom Melbourne University has recently been fortunate in securing for its chair of philosophy, has probably a deeper insight into, and a wider acquaintance with the teaching of Eucken than any other British exponent; but other and less eminent scholars are not far behind. In the advanced growing family with the names, are asking who are these modern prophets, and what is their doctrine. It would be too much to expect that same educated public to read some 20 volumes by Eucken and about half a dozen by Bergson. The desire is rather to be able to locate these volumes without much trouble, and that desire is being met by a library of exposition gathering them together. Even the student of philosophy cannot despise such help. Professor Boyce Gibson, whom Melbourne University has recently been fortunate in securing for its chair of philosophy, has probably a deeper insight into, and a wider acquaintance with the teaching of Eucken than any other British exponent; but other and less eminent scholars are not far behind. In the advanced point in both these philosophies is the insistence upon a living power rather than a determining itself, and a more and fuller self-expression. How great a change is this from the crude naturalism of a past generation! The gain is great, but the world is not yet prepared to accept a supreme personality as the ultimate source of the vital impulse, but it is just as likely that he will arrive at some new philosophy.

It is certain that Eucken and Bergson have opened a new era in the advancement of philosophical thought, and it can be said of both (especially Eucken) that they "are on the side of the angels."

THE PANAMA CANAL

SENATE DEBATE

WHAT THE HAGUE WOULD DO

"COLossal British Impudence."

WASHINGTON, July 11.
The debate on the Panama Canal Bill was continued in the Senate yesterday.

Senator H. C. Lodge stated that he was a member of the Foreign Relations Committee which reported on the Hay-Pauncefot treaty. His opinion was that the treaty left the United States free to regulate its own commerce through the canal. He believed, however, that the United States was not included in the nations to be treated on as equals under the treaty.

He added that a report to the Hague Tribunal was unavoidable if the Government paid the bills on the United States ships; and there was but little doubt as to what the result would be.

Senator Smith (Georgia): Do you think we would be?

Senator Lodge: Unquestionably!

Senator Smith mentioned that Spain had already concluded with a view to refunding the bills imposed upon Spanish shipping in the ports of the Canal.

Senator Smith (Georgia): Do you think we would violate the Hay-Pauncefot treaty?

JOINT OWNERSHIP.

CONGRESSMAN'S WAY OUT.

Mr. Moore, a member of the House of Representatives, has introduced a bill with a view of meeting British objections to the Panama Canal regulations.

The measure provides for the neutralization of the canal by giving all nations an opportunity of paying a portion of the cost of the canal.

Mr. Moore also proposes to establish a Canal Commission, consisting entirely of Americans, to study trade possibilities, with a view of developing trade with South America.

THE CANADIAN PRECEDENT.

SUGGESTED RETALIATION.

NEW YORK, July 12.
The "Times" this morning publishes the classes in the Canadian Waterways Treaty of 1893 which provide for the equal treatment of all shipping, those who are to be treated in the United States and the provinces, and those in the United States and Canada, and obtained the same treatment and obtained the same treatment as to Canadian shipping as was to be extended to Canadian shipping.

A "YELLOW" COMMENT.

The "New York Journal," one of Mr. W. R. Hearst's newspapers, advocates the tearing up of the Hay-Pauncefot Treaty.

It states: "If there is anything on earth more colossal than the Panama Canal it is British impudence."

REFERENCE IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, July 13.
Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, speaking in the House of Commons last night, in reference to the Panama Canal Bill, now before the United States Senate, stated that the 1902 treaty between Britain and the United States stipulated that the canal should be open on equal terms to all nations observing the same canal rules.

The Government, he said, had drawn the attention of the United States to the fact that some of the provisions of the Panama Canal Bill were inconsistent with that treaty.

HOME RULE.

THE AMERICAN ORANGEMEN.

LONDON, July 17.
At the Triennial Conference of the Orange Order, now being held in Glasgow, at which delegates from all over the world are attending, Mr. Weir, of New York, stated that 100,000 Orangemen in the United States would help financially, and "stand side by side to wipe out the Home Rule enemy."
